Principal's Word - Tony Peters

Last week's Book Week celebration incorporating the Family Night held on Wednesday evening was good fun for those who came along. For those that were here had the opportunity to mingle with others while browsing through the many different books available at the Book Fair.

A significant part of holding these events, is to bring people together – bringing the school and families together. Getting to know one another is a vital part for any community so that partnerships and connections can be strengthened. Last week I spoke a little about this and I want to really encourage you to reflect on how you are currently making connections with your school and what types of things you could try in the future. I want to make it very clear that the school wants to work in partnership with all school families so that every child has the opportunity to experience success.

You may have heard that the school will be holding a fete later this term on Friday December 4th. Advertising is already underway for this event which we have called the Crossways Community Fete. The purpose of this fete is to raise funds for local projects and this year money raised will go towards play spaces in Ceduna.

There are plans already underway to construct a new playground on the foreshore opposite the caravan park. The Apex Park playground is also another play space which is on the drawing board for redevelopment. We are inviting members of the community to join the Crossways community for this significant event and we want people to be involved.

We do need your assistance so if you would like to help out in any way, please contact the school.

During staff devotions this week, Miss Bek has got us focusing on 3 verses-

John 3:30 He must become greater; I must become less.
James 4:10 Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up.
Matthew 6:3 But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness and all these things will be given to you as well.

Reflecting on these 3 verses, I am reminded that God wants us to rely on him for ALL things not just this or that but everything. We need to put him first so that we are able to receive what he has promised to give us. Now how challenging is this?!

In a society where we are encouraged to think about oneself above everything else, we are challenged on a daily basis to get rid of selfishness and to put God at the front of everything.

As a school community, I pray that we can trust God in all things and to rely on him first rather than ourselves or other things.

Learning with Mrs Steeles

This semester I have had the privilege of teaching in the newly refurbished library. It has been a delight to see the library being utilised once again! Hopefully you have had an opportunity by now to go and have a look at the new shelving, furniture and digital technologies that the library now showcases.

Students have enjoyed using the new BenQ interactive screen, collaborating around the caterpillar-shaped tables and finding quiet nooks in which to complete their studies.

Semester two has seen a change in my lessons from Health and PE to now mostly HASS with a bit of Science and Christian Studies on the side. HASS stands for Humanities and Social Sciences. It encompasses the subjects of History, Geography and Civics and Citizenship.

Last term I was blessed to attend a two day online workshop with Kath Murdoch on 'Inquiry Based Learning'. This approach switches the focus from teachers giving information and asking questions, to students posing their own questions and seeking the answers themselves. It involves investigating, experimenting, asking questions, finding connections, talking, creating, analysing and reflecting. I have loved implementing this approach across the Junior School and seeing students 'come alive' with questions and share their new knowledge with the class.

One way of helping students to tune into new learning is to invite guest speakers and this week we were honoured to have Mr Peter Miller come to the Year 3/4 classes. He shared with the students about how life changed for Aboriginal people when European settlers arrived and how Aboriginal people have had their own laws and ways of living long before the European structure of governance was put in place in Australia. Students came armed with their own questions and kept notes to refer to in the coming weeks. We thank Mr Miller for coming in and giving his time to help us understand more about Aboriginal culture.

Cricket at CAS

A group of Crossways students went to the Ceduna Area School on Monday to play Cricket. The students had a great day.

Sport News

This term I have had the pleasure of taking all classes from Foundation to Year 10 for Physical Education lessons.

Movement, Physical Activity, Fair Play and Ethical Behaviour are the four focus points during our PE classes. Basketball is the designated sport for Term 4 across all year levels.

It's been exciting to see great skill development and ability from the students especially in the early years. The high level of ball handling, dribbling and goal shooting is really inspiring to see as I move from class to class.

Fair play and inclusivity is something we are always trying to do better so no-one feels left out during PE lessons. This can sometimes be difficult for some competitive students who like to win at all costs, but rest assured it is a strong focus of mine as I try to make PE lessons as fun as possible for everyone.

If any parents or family members ever feel as though they have some special talents to contribute towards PE lessons, please feel free to contact myself and come join the children, I'm sure they would appreciate it.

Mr. Woody Head of PE.
