Principal's Word - Tony Peters

Early Sunday Morning, the Year 8-10 students accompanied by their teachers Mr Caretti and Kerry Taylor, left Crossways and headed to the majestic Flinders Ranges for their 5 night camp. This particular camp is unlike other camps whereby students are camping in the real sense!

Accommodation is in tents, there is lots of hiking and exploring on the agenda and activities are purposeful, building independent, social skills and leadership skills. We wish them all a safe and enjoyable time away!

During this past week, marked National Reconciliation Week where groups and individuals learnt more about our shared histories, cultures and achievements and to explore how each of us can join and positively contribute to the national reconciliation journey. More than 50 years ago, on the 27th May 1967, Australia's most successful referendum saw more than 90 percent of Australians vote to give the Australian Government power to make laws for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and recognise them in the census. 25 years ago on the 3rd June 1992, the Australian High Court delivered the Mabo decision, the culmination of Eddie Koiki Mabo's challenge to the legal fiction of 'terra nullius' (land belonging to no one) and leading to the legal recognition of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the Traditional Owners and Custodians of lands. The decision paved the way for Native Title.

Crossways Lutheran School is in a unique position to provide opportunities for families, including students, staff, parents and the wider community to learn more about Indigenous culture which is a critical and necessary step towards reconciliation. Without a doubt, best practice is to have contact with Aboriginal people, to walk along side and to have a conversation is vital if we are serious about reconciliation.

The greatest reconciliation story comes to us from God. From Jesus' death and resurrection we witness the true meaning of reconciliation where love and forgiveness is at the forefront. I pray that through God's living example, we too have the capacity to reconcile with those whom we have daily contact and with those who have been poorly treated in the past.

When I graduated Year 7, I said that I wanted to be a cartoonist! Oh how wrong I was - the Year 3s will tell you I am definitely not the best at drawing!

This week the SRC have a Careers Day in which students can come dressed as something they want to be when they grow up. This is a great initiative by the SRC members and I'm sure will be a lot of fun!

At Crossways, we endeavor to foster a variety of skills in our students so that they can be equipped for whatever career they wish to pursue after school. Whether they wish to be teachers, footballers, doctors, nurses, zoo keepers, butchers, builders or actors, school is a place which prepares us -whatever path we may take.

No matter what career, it is important to develop our literacy, numeracy, communication and creativity skills as these are all transferable skills that apply to many career paths. This is why coming to school each and every day is vital so that students can be exposed to all different areas and can learn to interact with all types of people. A key element of the education at Crossways are our key values of:

- Aim for success
- Be loving and forgiving
- Be safe
- Be responsible
- Be fair
- Respect others

These values are qualities that will assist anyone at any workplace and the earlier we foster these in our students the better prepared they will be.

I cannot wait to see what all the Crossways students end up doing one day. But most importantly, whatever they do, I hope we have prepared them to be the best they can at what they do!
