Principal's Word - Tony Peters

Having time out from our routines whether it be from our usual vocation, from school, house work etc is important for everyone. Depending on the quality of the time out one has, it may provide a degree of recharging and rejuvenation. Having a long weekend can provide just that, knowing there is that extra day from our routines. I took the opportunity to do some camping at one of our favourite locations Mexican Hat, near Fowlers Bay. Jane also encouraged me to leave school work for a couple of days and head west. Not only was it good to take a break and do something else I love, it was also good to do something together with my wife. It was an opportunity to appreciate our unique environment here on the west coast. On our camp, we marvelled on God's glorious creation and I questioned, "How could this be without a creator? Only God could create something like this."

All around us there are many examples of God's miraculous creations, we just need to make the time, to slow down a little and have a closer look. When we do this, then we have opportunities to see design, to hear music, to feel tranquillity, to rejuvenate and experience hope. It can be an opportunity to get closer to God. During this week, staff are focusing on the meaning of generosity during our morning devotions and we are reminded of the generosity that God gives us on a daily basis. We too are encouraged to be generous to others, not only to those we know and love but especially to those who are desperate for something.

Look around carefully, there maybe someone who looking for some generosity right now!

We are approaching the end of Semester 1 which means you will be receiving your child's report next week. Please read it carefully, including the explanation at the beginning of the report. This gives you details on how to read your child's report, including grades and what they mean. After receiving and reading your child's report and you would like to meet with your child's teacher to discuss your child's progress further, please contact the teacher to make an appointment.

Food Tech

Wow! Time does fly!

It's been about 12 weeks since we last heard of the exotic and fun experiences that the Middle School Food Tech students created in their last newsletter.

This term we have taken a big step in trying to meet the demands in inevitable changes caused by the public holidays as well as other commitments that lessen our days in Food Tech lessons. Which means we didn't get to cook as much as we had done last term, however, in the few weeks of our cooking, so much fun and amazing dishes were created.

As Mondays were Food Tech days for the Senior years, most of the Mondays this term were either a public holiday or other commitments where they missed their classes. Thus we had to incorporate as fundraisers for the camp with our cook-off competition. The students worked really hard in weeks 4 & 5 to produce goods that were sold on the street as well as around school. Together with other initiatives, they raised about $700 which goes into their camp budget for week 6.

The Year 5 students also incorporated their cook-off competition in preparing a farewell party for their student teacher, Miss Collins. Their preparation and presentations for this auspicious occasion were surprisingly impressive.

Finally, the year 6/7 students have spent a few weeks this term, researching and trialing amazing healthy dishes using one of the cook books authored by our very own South Australian Aboriginal Chefs. Adjusting and simplifying, adding flavors which they created producing awesome and delicious meals.

Wishing all the Middle School Food Tech students the very best as they prepare and look forward to the couple of weeks left of this term.

Library News - Kirsty Lennell

The Premier's Reading Challenge has been implemented in schools since 2004 to improve literacy skills and to encourage students to read more and enjoy reading.

The Challenge for students is to read 12 books from the beginning of the school year until the 3rd of September. Classes at Crossways have been recording their books on their reading records and every student who completes the challenge receives an award, based on the years of participation. Students can find Premier Reading Challenge books in our library by searching for books marked with the PRC logo, which are appropriate to their year level.

The Children's Book Council of Australia has announced the 2021 Book Week theme "Old Worlds, New Worlds, Other Worlds" and the shortlisted books competing for Book of the Year awards. Book Week will be held next term in week 6, 21-27 August. To celebrate books and our Australian authors and illustrators Crossways have some exciting events for everyone to enjoy during book week; a family evening, book fair, costume parade and daily activities. Further information on all the Book Week fun will be advertised in future newsletters.

SRC wrap-up for semester 1

Over the semester, the SRC members have been involved in different activities and experiences such as helping raise and solve school and class issues, running school fundraisers such as casual clothes days, been involved in various meetings and have begun a positive link-up with the Area School. It has been great to see the students become involved and have a voice, as well as grow their confidence in school and out of school.

A highlight this term was when the Middle School SRC members met up with some of the Area School leaders at the Youth Hub. This was a great way to connect and build relationships, as well as building confidence and leadership skills outside of Crossways. We look forward to continue building this relationship and working together next semester. I encourage all students in Years 2-10 to consider applying for SRC for next semester – you will need to have a letter written to me explaining why you would be a good candidate and what skills you could bring.

Next week, the Semester 1 SRC members, Mr Peters, Mrs Evans and myself will be going to the Foreshore Hotel for lunch to celebrate and congratulate the hard work and dedication over the semester.
